THE ANSWER

Take the ordinary Vy train (lines R12, RE10 or RE11) from the station under the terminal to Oslo S on a four-zone Ruter ticket at 134 kr. It uses the same station as the 276 kr Flytoget and takes about four minutes longer.

Oslo Lufthavn sits in Ruter zone 4N and an ordinary Ruter ticket is valid on the Vy trains that call there, so the airport run costs the same as any four-zone journey in the region instead of the express operator's premium.

Travelling with children? Under-16s ride the Flytoget free with an adult, and children and seniors pay 64 kr on the four-zone Ruter ticket. Late landing? Flybussen Connect coaches serve the centre, 279 kr booked online but 319 kr from the driver.

EVERY WAY OUT — REAL PRICES

Vy train (R12, RE10, RE11) on a Ruter ticket BEST FOR MOST 134 kr

The station is under the terminal - follow the 'Tog' signs. A four-zone Ruter single ticket is 134 kr (46 kr buys one zone), is valid for 150 minutes and covers metro, tram, bus and Vy's trains in Oslo and Akershus. About 23 minutes to Oslo S. Buy it in the Ruter or Vy app or at the ordinary machines; it is not valid on the Flytoget.

Flytoget airport express 276 kr

Every 10 minutes, 19 minutes to Oslo S, and on to Nationaltheatret, Skoyen, Lysaker, Sandvika, Asker and Drammen (342 kr). Half price (138 kr) for students, youth 16-20, over-67s and conscripts with ID; children under 16 travel free with an adult. Flytoget has been part of the Vy group since 31 March 2025 and still sells its own tickets and its own machines.

Flybussen Connect coach (FB1, FB3, FB5) 279-319 kr

Adult 279 kr on flybussen.no, 289 kr from the ticket machine in the arrivals hall or at platform 11, 319 kr from the driver; return 449 kr and a 30-day pass 1,800 kr. Up to two children aged 6-17 travel free with an adult fare and under-6s are free. 45-65 minutes to the city centre: slower than the train and, bought online, barely cheaper.

Fixed-price taxi from the rank 729-1,049 kr

Oslo Taxi's published fixed prices from the airport run from 729 kr (innermost zone, 1-4 passengers) to 1,049 kr, plus 300 kr outside Mon-Fri 06:00-17:00 and 400 kr on public holidays. Order at the taxi booking machine outside the terminal at ground level, beside the pick-up area: Avinor says the car normally arrives in 3-5 minutes and the machine lists prices to most Eastern Norway addresses.

Bolt (fixed airport price) / Uber 600-710 kr

Bolt publishes fixed prices from the airport: 600 kr to the south, 650 kr north and east, 670 kr to the centre, 710 kr west, 780 kr Baerum, 910 kr Asker and 1,160 kr Drammen, with tolls added automatically. Uber quotes in the app and publishes no airport tariff. Both pick up at the app pick-up points, not at the taxi rank.

THE TRAPS — WALK PAST THESE

The 276 kr express and the 134 kr ordinary train leave from the same station

Flytoget's machines and desk are what you meet first, and the airport sells the express as the fastest way in. The Vy trains on lines R12, RE10 and RE11 use the same station under the terminal and cost 134 kr on a four-zone Ruter ticket - 142 kr less per person for a journey four minutes longer. Flytoget's own conditions say its ticket is not valid on other lines, and a Ruter ticket is not valid on the Flytoget. Do this: walk past the Flytoget machines and buy a four-zone Ruter ticket in the Ruter or Vy app before boarding the ordinary train

The national cap on taxi prices ended on 15 January 2026

The temporary maximum prices for street-hailed taxis were not renewed, so a hailed car at the airport charges its own tariff. Reported cases at Gardermoen include 3,700 kr for a 4.4 km ride and a 21,230 kr charge into the city. Avinor's own taxi page warns against getting into a taxi without pre-booking, or making a deal with a driver inside or outside the terminal. Do this: order at the booking machine outside the terminal or in an app, and fix the total price before the car moves

Buying the coach from the driver costs 40 kr more

The same adult seat is 279 kr on flybussen.no, 289 kr at the ticket machine and 319 kr from the driver, per the operator's price table valid from 1 April 2026. On Vy, buying on board adds a 40 kr surcharge at any station that has a ticket machine - and Oslo Lufthavn has machines. Do this: buy in the app or on the website before boarding, and check the ticket is valid on the operator you are actually boarding

A city ticket does not reach the airport

Oslo Lufthavn is in Ruter zone 4N, not zone 1. A one-zone ticket (46 kr) or a day pass bought for the city stops short: the airport needs a four-zone ticket at 134 kr, or an add-on for the missing zones if you already hold a period ticket. Do this: buy four zones, or the extra-zone add-on, before you board at Oslo S

KNOW BEFORE YOU WALK

- The Flytoget takes 19 minutes to Oslo S and leaves every 10 minutes; the Vy trains take about 23 minutes and leave every 10-30 minutes.
- A four-zone Ruter ticket is valid for 150 minutes - 60 minutes plus 30 for each extra zone - and includes transfers to metro, tram and bus inside those zones.
- Children under 6 travel free on Ruter and the four-zone ticket costs children and seniors 64 kr; on the Flytoget under-16s are free with an adult and everyone else half price.
- Flytoget's half-price fare is 138 kr for students, youth aged 16-20, over-67s and conscripts, which is what two people pay in total on the ordinary train.
- Oslo Taxi adds 300 kr outside Mon-Fri 06:00-17:00 and 400 kr on public holidays to its fixed airport prices, so a Friday night arrival pays 1,029 kr on the cheapest zone rather than 729 kr.
- Bolt's fixed airport price of 670 kr to the centre is below the cheapest fixed taxi price of 729 kr, and a taxi only beats the 276 kr Flytoget when three or more people share it.

Prices read in October 2026 from the operators' own pages: Flytoget's fare table (Oslo S 276 kr adult, 138 kr half price, under-16s free), Ruter's zone price table (46/75/105/134 kr for one to four zones), Flybussen Connect's price list valid from 1 April 2026 (279/289/319 kr, return 449 kr, 30-day pass 1,800 kr), Oslo Taxi's fixed prices from the airport (729-1,049 kr for 1-4 passengers, +300 kr outside Mon-Fri 06:00-17:00, +400 kr on public holidays) and Bolt's published airport fixed prices (600-1,160 kr from the airport, tolls extra, list undated). The temporary national maximum-price regulation for street-hailed taxis ended on 15 January 2026, so 729 kr is a company fixed price and not a legal cap, and the 3,700 kr and 21,230 kr figures are press reports of individual fares rather than published tariffs. Flytoget has belonged to the Vy group since 31 March 2025 and its route is due to be folded into the ordinary Eastern Norway train service in December 2027.
